In a city where your gym routine is infinitely more important than your career, one might wonder why every week and a half you hear about some AMAZING new restaurant that serves... pizza. And while that contradiction makes even less sense than the Hialeah traffic grid, it also means a slew of exceptional new 'za spots have opened since the last time we ranked Miami's best pizza. And these are the 17 best:

Though it'll be another few weeks before you can take an Uber here, it's worth the wait. This new Italian spot on Las Olas immediately took the title of best pizza in Broward, baking Neapolitan-style pies with crisp, puffy crusts served hot out of its wood-burning oven. Its signature Margherita D.O.P comes with buffalo mozzarella and sea salt on San Marzano sauce. But it's also got a whole menu of white sauce pizzas, highlighted by the San Gennaro w/smoked buffalo mozzarella, ricotta, pancetta, and fried rosemary.
